

Miryam Charles

Filmmaker | Director of Photography

BIOGRAPHIE

Miryam Charles is a filmmaker and director of photography living in Montreal. She has directed several short films and has shot many short and feature films. Her films have been presented in many film festivals in Quebec and internationally. Her first feature-length documentary film Cette maison (Talents en vue, SODEC, Fonds MELS) world premiered at Berlinale 2022. She is currently working on a short fiction film Au crépuscule (SODEC créateurs émergents) and in development for a dramatic series (Banff/Netflix Diversity of Voices + Trio Orange), as well as a feature-length fiction film Le marabout (La forge Québec cinéma/Netflix + Voyelles Films).
